MOBILE RELIABLE
EASY COMPLETE

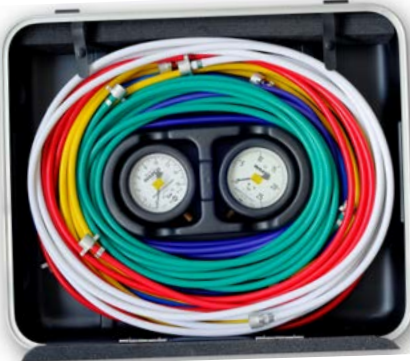

For more than 30 years the WABCO Air Brake Test Case has proven to be an essential and helpful tool for workshops.

The new, modern version is more mobile, user-friendly and can be used for vehicle inspections at any time and any place. It allows your workshops to measure the pressure in a vehicle's braking and suspension system. In short - a vital tool for workshops that perform official inspections according to local legislation.

Checking the pressure is a specialist's job. A sphygmomanometer is standard kit for any medical doctor and tells him everything he wants to know about the pressure in your most vital system. In the same way, the only tool you need to carry is the WABCO Air Brake Test Case. With WABCO, you become the specialist.

“ We don't have to rush to the official technical control centres anymore for a full check. With the WABCO Air Brake Test Case, we are fully equipped to perform the inspection according to the highest legal standards ourselves. The inspector simply needs to make a final check on the vehicles. This saves our customers lots of time! ”
