

WABCO System Diagnostics – Immediate payment by credit card

The WABCO System Diagnostics (SD) is available as a package or as stand-alone software. To add to the traditional route of payment, where a customer was invoiced and they would download the software after receipt of payment, you can now access the necessary diagnostic program directly and without waiting because of our new credit card payment system.

Previously we had to send you an invoice and wait for receipt of your payment before the software could finally be activated.

You can choose between the classic method (payment against invoice) and immediate payment by credit card.

After logging in to the myWABCO portal, click "Order Diagnostic Software" to access the corresponding area. There you can purchase new software or renew your expiring subscription. At this point you can select whether you wish to pay against an invoice or by credit card (see Figure 1).

If you decide in favour of the fast method of payment by credit card, enter your relevant credit card data (see Figure 2).

After a successful check of the data, you can immediately use the WABCO diagnostic software without limitations.

We have thus created a way to help you immediately obtain the necessary software in urgent cases.
