

Simplification of the Diagnostic PIN system

The WABCO System Diagnostic Software includes functions that can be used to influence or change vehicle system parameters that are relevant to safety. These functions can be executed after the user has been instructed or trained accordingly and, after the user has accepted responsibility.

Access to these functions is controlled by means of a Personal Identification Number (PIN). To obtain the PIN, you use what is known as a licence letter that you receive when you have completed a WABCO training program. With the use of the confirmation number, which is printed on this certificate and is known only to yourself, you accept the Usage Terms and Conditions. When you enter a licence letter and confirmation number in our Internet PIN application, you will receive the PINs for approved diagnostic programs.

Change of PIN now only with new PIN version of the software

Up to now, PINs had to be retrieved frequently with every revision of the Diagnostic Software in the Internet application. This is now to be reduced to a minimum.

With the introduction of the PIN version, you will continue to use the PIN initially received even after an update of the diagnostic program; you will only need to retrieve a new PIN when the diagnostic program or the supported system have been fundamentally changed. Such a change is described by the indication of a new PIN version in the Diagnostic Software.

The new concept is shown in the illustrations on the right. The title bar of the program shows both the licence and the PIN version. The same applies to the program description in the download area on the Internet.

The following applies: when the PIN version changes from previous versions, a new PIN is required. Only the PIN that matches the new PIN version will now be displayed in the Internet PIN application.

Renewed activation only in the case of a new licence version

The same applies for the software activation. If only minor adjustments in the program make an update necessary, the licence version (Lic) will remain the same as for the previous version and a renewed activation will not be required.

We hope that this change will make handling out system diagnosis even easier. Please contact your WABCO partner if you have any questions.
