TRANSICS, A WABCO COMPANY

As part of WABCO, Transics will continue to operate under its own brand and support the transport industry fleet operators to remain competitive and manage costs.

It develops and markets Fleet Management Solutions (FMS), i.e. software, hardware and services that lead to more efficient and cost effective processes at fleet operators, to more productive, safer and ecological driving and to improved services towards shippers.

Linking comprehensive real-time data gathered from WABCO's advanced onboard braking, stability control and efficiency systems with Transics's leading fleet management solutions will create significant value for fleet customers. The new acquisition offers fleet owners and operators an avenue for improving operational productivity and further increasing vehicle safety.
